LIVING INTO OUR LIFELONG COMMITMENT

Letter from the President and CEO

This annual report arrives at a unique time. 2024 is a true turning point for The Cradle. We are building a bright path forward: addressing how the evolving landscape of adoption, the dynamic needs of our families, and the opportunity to channel our strengths to better serve the broader community will be reflected in our second century of service. As The Cradle prepares for the next 100 years, the day-to-day work of our dedicated team of professionals never stops. The education, care and counseling we provide are propelled by The Cradle's vision: a world where every child thrives in a safe and loving family.

This vital work is anchored by a lifelong commitment. We know that adoption is complex and so much more than a moment in time. We recognize that people whose lives are shaped by adoption may have different feelings and needs at different times in their lives. Whenever you need us, The Cradle is here to walk alongside you and support you on your adoption journey.

The profiles in these pages provide brief glimpses into David's, Anna's and Abby and Layla's adoption journeys. The families themselves are the main characters in their stories, of course, with The Cradle playing an important but supporting role. We celebrate these families and the thousands of others we have had the privilege to serve. We thank our generous community of supporters for making our work possible and for helping to fuel our ambitions for the future.

With gratitude,

ALONGSIDE

David's Story: Lifelong Support

Rae Ellen and Matthew adopted their son, David (center), in 1992. They returned to visit The Cradle the day before David's 32nd birthday to see where it all began and to share their family story.

Visit our 2023 Annual Report online to read the rest of David's story, and others, to see how The Cradle walks with families throughout their adoption journey.

Abby and Layla's Story: Best Friends Since the Cradle Nursery

Abby and Layla are best friends who first met when they were babies in The Cradle Nursery together. Nine years later, they still refer to each other as "Roomies," a testament to their enduring bond. They shared the story of their special friendship with The Cradle.

Visit our 2023 Annual Report online to read the rest of Abby and Layla's story, and others, to learn how The Cradle has helped build families through adoption.

A woman with short grey hair, wearing a light green short-sleeved top and a matching skirt, is sitting on a light-colored sofa. She is looking to her right with a thoughtful expression, her hand resting on her chin. In the background, there is a whiteboard, a lamp on a side table, and a window with blinds. The entire image has a light blue overlay.

The Cradle is here to serve anyone touched by adoption. Our therapists offer adoption expertise and can work with all members of birth or adoptive families at any stage of life. Our dedicated post adoption department offers guidance and support to anyone touched by adoption, whether the adoption was facilitated by The Cradle or not.

Anna's Story: Life-Saving Therapy

Anna was adopted at the age of one from China in the early 2000s. Like many who were adopted, she struggled with mental health throughout her childhood and teenage years. Her mother, Abigail, was determined to find her help. She turned to The Cradle's adoption-competent therapists — a decision that changed their lives.

Centennial

CELEBRATION

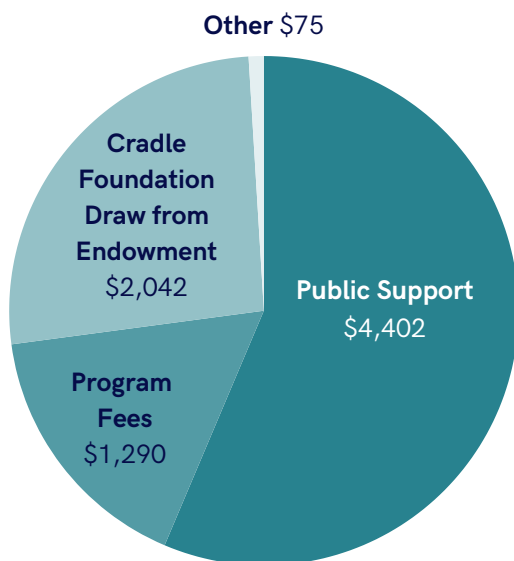

2023 was a milestone year, with The Cradle celebrating 100 years of building families through adoption. Since opening our doors in 1923, we have facilitated more than 16,000 domestic and international adoptions, and have been at the forefront of open adoption, African American infant adoption and placements with LGBTQ+-identifying families.

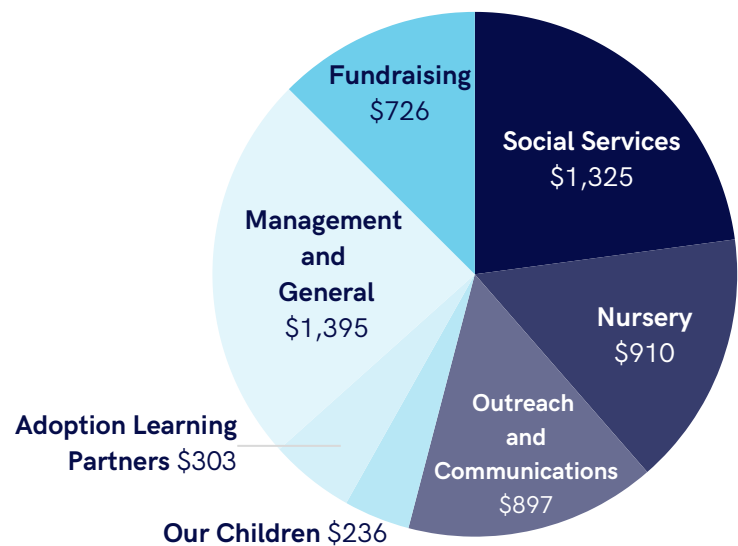

Financial INFORMATION

Amidst this pivotal moment in The Cradle’s history, we strategically directed investments towards expanding services and growing our programs. These investments included growing our team to bolster our therapy practice, appointing a new Nursery Director, and filling pivotal leadership roles essential for charting strategic growth over the next century. Additionally, substantial resources were allocated to broadening access for expectant and birth parents, adoptees and adoptive families.

Community SUPPORT

Our dedicated community of supporters demonstrated remarkable generosity throughout our Centennial year, contributing more than $4 million to advance our programs and commemorate this significant milestone. What's truly inspiring is that 95% of this revenue was unrestricted, offering us the flexibility to channel resources where they're most needed and empowering us to innovate and respond swiftly to evolving challenges. With the trust of 1,481 dedicated supporters, we've transformed their generosity into life-altering impact. An impressive 61% of individual donations amount to $100 or less, highlighting the profound significance of each contribution.

Our robust 59% donor retention rate stands as a testament to the unwavering dedication of our long-standing supporters. These contributions aren't merely financial; they symbolize a shared commitment to change, fueling our programs, provide opportunities, and create lasting transformations in our communities. Guided by our esteemed Investment Committee, revenue derived from investments and dividends has played a pivotal role in fortifying our financial resilience.

Nancy's Story:
Supporting The Cradle

Nancy Sanborn (center with orange badge) is the great-granddaughter of Cradle founder Florence Walrath. When she first discovered her family's ties to The Cradle, she was eager to learn more about Florence and the history of her work. Today, she is proud to see the impact of her support and her family's enduring legacy in action.

Visit our 2023 Annual Report online to read the rest of Nancy's story, and others, to see how our generous donors advanced The Cradle's programs and commemorated our centennial year.
